

JAKE MYDDELTON
Co-Owner, MyddeltonParker Builders

Jake Myddelton, co-owner of MyddeltonParker Builders, is responsible for business development and construction management for the company. Raised in Tallahassee, Jake graduated from Leon High School and then attended the University of Georgia.

In 1999, Jake joined John Wieland Homes and Neighborhoods in Atlanta, and then moved with the firm to Charleston, South Carolina as a Project Manager, where he was responsible for all phases of the home construction process. In 2003, Jake relocated back to Tallahassee, Florida and opened MyddeltonParker Builders with John Parker.

Jake currently serves on the Premier Bank Community Board, the Tallahassee Young Entrepreneurs Association, and is a charter member of the Leon High School Alumni Association. He also holds a Registered Residential construction license.

Jake is newly married to Sandra Jones Myddelton and is a member of First Baptist Church.